ARNOLDS WIN FIGHT FOR NEW TRIAL

MAC DONALD BACK ON BRITISH SOIL; NEW HONORS CONFERRED

Premier Will Confer
With Canadian
Premier

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—Back on British soil after his historic visit to the United States on a mission of peace, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald faced a busy program here today.

This morning he was to address the American Federation of Labor convention and then attend a luncheon tendered him by a Canadian club.

In the afternoon he will be honored with a degree of doctor of laws conferred by the University of Toronto. A public reception and a state dinner at the government house were to follow before his departure tonight for Ottawa.

Upon his arrival at the Canadian capital tomorrow, Mr. MacDonald will confer with Mackenzie King, Canadian prime minister, and other dominant officials.

These conferences are expected to precede an announcement from the prime minister concerning his conversations with President Hoover. The contents of the announcement have been closely guarded but it is believed it will touch further upon Anglo-American relations with special reference to freedom of the seas.

The prime minister's statement upon reaching Canadian soil that he hoped for a "restful and practically profitable" stay heightened speculation regarding the significance of his expected announcement at Ottawa.

Ishbel MacDonald is enjoying her visit to Canada as much as her stay in the United States. Since crossing the border yesterday she has visited every available point of interest off-times with her famous father as her only guide.

Tonight she is scheduled to address the Canadian Women's Club at the King Edward Hotel.

ITALY AND JAPAN TO ATTEND PARLEY

ROME, Oct. 16.—A demand that the work of the five-power naval disarmament conference in London in January should aim at facilitating the work of the preparatory disarmament conference of the League of Nations is embodied in Italy's acceptance of participation in the London parley. It was learned here today.

It is officially pointed out that the forthcoming five-power parley should be in the nature of a "stepping stone" to a general disarmament conference to be attended by representatives of all nations.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Baron Matsudaira and Messrs. Wakatsuki and Takarabe have been chosen by the Japanese government to represent Japan at the forthcoming naval disarmament conference in London, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Tokio stated today.

The Japanese cabinet has now formally voted acceptance of Britain's invitation to attend the conference.

SENATE WILL ACT ON FARM BOARD NAMES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The new $600,000,000 tariff bill through which the senate has been working its way so many weeks was slated to give way today to consideration of nominations of the members of President Hoover's federal farm board.

While a number of senators indicated they would express views unfavorable to members of the board, it was believed all members would eventually receive the approval of the senate. The strongest opposition was centered against the cotton member, Carl Williams of Oklahoma, and the wheat member, Samuel R. McKelevy of Nebraska. Both received three unfavorable votes in committee but opposition against them is not regarded as sufficiently organized to prevent their confirmation. One vote in committee was against Chairman Alexander Legge of the farm board, but no great opposition was expected to develop against him on the floor of the senate.

ARTIFICIAL TALK

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—Articulate speech, in fact, a two-sided conversation had been achieved today by the use of artificial larynxes over 3,000 miles of telephone circuit.

The men who talked to each other are R. B. Marshall, California highway employee, who lost his speech two years ago and Sergius P. Grace, Bell Telephone laboratory official.

Each man was equipped with and used an artificial larynx made of rubber. Marshall, who had been mute for some time, started practicing with the man-made voice last April, and now is able to carry on a perfect conversation.

WAY TO REDUCE

KENTON, O., Oct. 16.—Found a way to reduce!

During the threshing season, W. H. Kinnean, owner of a farm near this city, missed two hogs sixty days ago. And today both had been found, though one is dead.

One was discovered in a stock of oats completely covered but was able to crawl out from his enforced home. During the intervening time the hog had lost fifty pounds, according to the owner of the animal.

The "porker" is expected to recover fully.

Dancer Tells Story Of
Whipping With Hair-brush

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Many years ago Harry K. Thaw, heir to millions, entered a courtroom and his name rang around the world as the slayer of Stanford White.

Today, the Pittsburgh millionaire to whom a generous portion of the fortune of his late mother has passed, was expected once again to take the witness stand this time to deny the charges of Marcia Estardus, Broadway entertainer.

Miss Estardus, whose real name is Miss O'Neill, is suing for $100,000 alleging that she was beaten and bitten by him in his apartment on New Year's day 1927. The first trial of the action resulted in a jury disagreement.

Thaw, whose hair is now as white as the snows of winter, sat in a nearby office and listened to telephone reports from counsel while his accuser told her story from the witness chair in supreme court.

Dressed in a black hat, the plaintiff told the jury that Thaw beat her with a hairbrush and bit her. She said she had gone to the Pittsburgh millionaire's apartment here with Morgan Pendleton, at that time Thaw's secretary, after a gay New Year's Eve party in Washington Square.

There was champagne and eggs for breakfast and Thaw sat on her in the dining room. "You are very pretty. You ought to go on the stage or in the movies," Miss Estardus testified Thaw said to her. "Then he asked me to walk about the room. I did and he watched me."

"Next, he asked me to come down the hallway to see a picture that he said looked like me. I went there and he stood beside me commenting on the picture."

"I saw that he held a hairbrush with a long handle in his hand. I tried to run. I rushed into the bedroom and then he came at me."

The witness dabbed her eyes with a handkerchief and sniffed. "He tore my dress," she continued. "He struck me, tore my hair and bit me. I picked up everything I could to throw at him. I screamed."

"His eyes were popping out. I ran to the window. He shouted 'Don't jump' and finally I unlocked the door."

Miss Estardus showed the jury a scar. Then the red velvet dress with spangles which the plaintiff wore to the New Year's Eve party was exhibited. It was torn and the spangles were tattered.

Oil Magnate Will Probably Be On Stand Thursday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—One of the two big defense guns in the bribery trial of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall will go into action today; the other will be ranged tomorrow.

Before adjournment of court this afternoon, Frank J. Hogan, chief defense attorney expects to reach Admiral J. K. Robison and tomorrow's session will see E. L. Doheny, the California oil magnate, on the stand.

It was Robison who, in the conspiracy trial of Fall and Doheny, came forward and literally sought to take full responsibility for the lease of the Elk Hills naval reserves on his shoulders, although the government contends the ex-cabinet officer and the oil baron connived over it. Robison has defended the lease as one which was exceptionally beneficial to the government, and he will tell how, in his opinion and that of other high naval officials, it became necessary to throw the reserve open to private exploitation to prevent drainage from the outside.

Doheny will tell about the $100,000 transaction that forms the basis of the present trial. Far from being the bribe the government says it was, Doheny will tell the judge and jury it was an unsecured loan "from one old friend to another" and had no bearing on his acquisition of Elk Hill.

Presentation of the defense has been lengthened by at least several days by the action of Justice Hitz in permitting the government to close its case with the introduction of evidence about Fall's dealings with Harry F. Sinclair, who got the Teapot Dome lease, in cash and Liberty bonds. Fall received a total of $304,600 from Sinclair, which the defense says represents the purchase price of one-third interest in Fall's New Mexico ranch, but branded as another bribe by the prosecution. Prosecutor Owen J. Roberts put it in the record to "show Fall's state of mind" at the time of the leasing of the oil reserves and Hogan will have to controvert it with what, in effect, will be a defense of the Fall-Sinclair deal within the defense of the current trial.

Refuses To Yield Home To Progress

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—"Over my dead body."

With these words Tillie Hart today prepared for her most desperate stand against progress typified by steam shovels, five-ton trucks and riveting hammers.

"His eyes were popping out. I ran to the window. He shouted 'Don't jump' and finally I unlocked the door."

Miss Estardus showed the jury a scar. Then the red velvet dress with spangles which the plaintiff wore to the New Year's Eve party was exhibited. It was torn and the spangles were tattered.

ARMED POSSES SEEK ALLEGED THIEF WHO SHOT OHIO FARMER

Jacob Steiger May Die; Footprints Offer Clew

BUCYRUS, O., Oct. 16.—Armed with shotguns, pitchforks, and other implements, 200 farmers, supplemented by police squads, today started the greatest man-hunt in the history of Crawford County for the assailant of Jacob Steiger, 58, who was shot and probably fatally wounded at his farm home near Nevada late yesterday afternoon.

Steiger is in a local hospital with a bullet wound in his head and an announcement of his death is expected momentarily.

According to the meager details of the shooting, which was believed to have been done by the man, or men, who robbed the Steiger home of $1,000 last month, Steiger surprised a man in the act of robbing his home yesterday.

The neighbors heard three shotgun shots and upon investigation found Steiger laying in a pool of his own blood in his barnyard.

Jacob was one of the two bachelors brothers who resided on the farm near Nevada. John Steiger is the other.

Upon the occasion of the robbery last month, large footprints which were said by police to have been made by an unusually large man, were found. Identical footprints were found in the barnyard yesterday.

Jacob was not shot in the house according to the police. It is believed he followed the man to the barnyard where the latter turned up and opened fire.

The man is believed to have had an accomplice waiting in a nearby automobile.

Police of Marion and Wyandot counties are co-operating in the search.

QUEEN'S HOPES TO MEET OPPOSITION

VIENNA, Oct. 16.—The demand of Queen Marie of Roumania for places for herself and her son, Prince Nicholas, on the regency council appointed to rule during the minority of the boy King Michael, will be vigorously fought by Premier Jules Maniu, it was reported here today.

Maniu, the reports declare, is determined to fight the queen's challenge by calling a new election, convinced the Roumanian people will see fit to deny seats on the council to members of the royal family.

Wrecking is scheduled to begin early today but as much as a dozen wrecker crews will be reported that not a man among them is overly anxious to begin stripping Tillie's odd gray house of its ornaments. For Tillie has shown in previous skirmishes with workmen that she is accurate with a brick and will stand for little screaming.

Last night, seated in her favorite rocking chair in the kitchen which affords a commanding view of the ruins about her, Mrs. Hart prepared for another evening in her home.

"Nothing but the police will throw me out," she declared.

FAMED PILOT HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 15.—Roy L. Mitchell, 29, airplane pilot who with Byron Newcomb set a short-lived world's refueling endurance flight record, was reported in a serious condition at Berea Community Hospital today from injuries received when his automobile collided with a truck late yesterday.

Mitchell suffered a crushed chest and severe cuts and bruises in the accident. His wife, who was with him at the time, escaped uninjured.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The deadly vengeance of gangland was believed to have added a new victim to its long toll today when the body of a young man was found shot to death on a street in Cicero, a suburb.

EXPECT FRANCE WILL DEMAND RETENTION
OF SUBMARINE ARM

Accept Bid Without Reservation Of Any Nature

PARIS, Oct. 16.—French acceptance of the invitation to participate in the London five-power naval parley will be delivered to the British foreign office by the French ambassador this afternoon, it was announced today. The reply will be published Thursday.

In accepting the invitation, France makes no reservation, it was stated in authoritative circles, but it is pointed out in superfluous to define France's position in view of her traditional attitude at former conferences.

This is interpreted as meaning that France will demand retention of her submarine arm as the only means she can protect her interest with the small amount of money for naval armaments at her disposal.

The acceptance declares that the forthcoming conference will undoubtedly prove a great step forward in general disarmament, if only in reaching a definite decision among the five naval powers as to their future moves in the matter of floating armaments.

It is added that in the meantime France is continuing "diplomatic conversations" with Italy and Japan on the subject of disarmament.

On the basis of information obtainable at this time, it appears France has taken a diplomatic course in framing her acceptance, avoiding mention of any definite reservations.

The allusion, however, to the "superficial" of setting forth her position makes it clear France intends to press strongly for the right to build sufficient submarines to protect her Mediterranean and Atlantic interests.

In addition reference to the forthcoming conference as a "stepping stone" to further general disarmament conferences reflects France's previous attitude in the matter of disarmament, indicating while she is willing to co-operate to the fullest extent in the parley born of the negotiations of President Hoover and Premier Macdonald of Britain, she still regards the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission as the body to which all disarmament discussions must eventually be taken.

The neighbors heard three shotgun shots and upon investigation found Steiger laying in a pool of his own blood in his barnyard.

Jacob was one of the two bachelors brothers who resided on the farm near Nevada. John Steiger is the other.

Upon the occasion of the robbery last month, large footprints which were said by police to have been made by an unusually large man, were found. Identical footprints were found in the barnyard yesterday.

It is important that the frocks for the debutante be au fait. They must be youthful, brilliantly styled and they must be sophisticated. These four models by Mme. Claire, fulfill these demands. From left to right they are, first, afternoon frock of blue moire with the drooping skirtline and collar of eggshell satin. Second, gold nail heads used in original embroidery medium used for trimming godet, collar and skirt. Ruffles add femininity to the frock. The third model is a symphony in color, navy silk contrasted with eggshell. A large bertha collar extends half way down to meet the all around pleated skirt with transparent velvet bow, and there is a lace yoke. Fourth, extreme right, Mme. Claire has made a lovely frock of black crepe with black and chartreuse peplum emphasizing the new waistline.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GOOD TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY — There were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. — Luke 2:8, 9, 10, 11.

THE NEW "BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER"

The new edition of the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal church, the result of 15 years of study and revision, has just been published. The most noticeable changes occur in the wording of the marriage service, from which the bride's former promise to "obey" and "serve" have been eliminated. The word "honor" is substituted.

No longer will the bridegrooms of the Episcopal church "with all their worldly goods endow" their spouses. This phrase, also, has gone in the discard.

In the opening sentence of the marriage service, which speaks of matrimony as "an honorable estate instituted of God in the time of man's innocence," the last six words have been dropped.

Isaac and Rebecca have lost their status as the high exemplars of mutual fidelity. Reference to them in the prayer ratifying the marital vows has been obliterated on the ground that, although the pair have been held up for 140 years as the ideal wedded couple, Isaac is recorded as having on one occasion tried to pass off Rebecca as his sister.

The Good Friday collect has been softened materially to omit reference to "Jews, Turks, infidels and heretics." The phrase, "all who know Thee not as Thou art revealed," is substituted. The collect also omits the passage which refers to the saving of the faithful "among the remnant of the true Israelites."

THE LOUVAIN INSCRIPTION

Whitney Warren, American architect, has finally won his battle in the Belgian courts to retain an inscription on a balustrade in the memorial library which he designed for the University of Louvain. The inscription reads that the edifice was "destroyed by Teutonic fury, rebuilt by American generosity."

Two years ago work on the facade was suspended when a controversy arose between Warren and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, representing the Carnegie Foundation, the chief donor of the building. Dr. Butler thought the phraseology of the inscription would conduce to the revival of war-bred hatred. Warren retorted that he was following out the wishes of the late Cardinal Mercier and insisted on the right of an architect to impose his own interpretation of any problem without being subject to amendment by others.

The controversy came to a climax in June, 1928, when a crowd of several hundred people pulled down and broke to pieces the pillars of the balustrade of the library on which Mgr. Ladeuze, rector of the university, proposed to erect an inscription which avoided the words "Teutonic fury."

Whether or not the judgment will be appealed, the decision of the Louvain court will doubtless renew bitter discussions. Two questions are involved. Do the words "Teutonic fury" express an historical fact or do they imply the partisan spirit of war? Has an artist paid to execute a commission the right to insist that his work be preserved in integral form by those who have purchased it?

These are two problems which the individual must face. It is obviously impossible to dogmatize about them.

Bo-Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK—When word got out a year or so ago that Ed Davis, multi-millionaire oil man from Texas, was loose on Broadway with the rubber band on his wallet fractured, and playing "angel" to a dead show, there was a general roar of "The Boys" and one or two of The Girls were seriously injured.

And so it noted that in all the padding 'round he's done on The Lane from that time to this he has yet to be initiated into the Ancient Order of Sad-Eyed Suckers.

THE WAY of the WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON

CIGARETTE FIGHTING

Somewhere in Ohio a movement has started which seeks to have all cigarette packages labeled with skull and crossbones. Congress is to be asked to treat cigarettes as poison and labeled accordingly. This kind of fighting is a waste of power. With so many heavier evils confronting mankind, with so many things in this interesting world worth fighting against, why bother with tobacco? And doubtless as many people are seriously hurt by over-eating as over-smoking. Others are hurt by worry-worry about trivial matters—such as smoking.

A MODEL WASHINGTON

Prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists ought to be interested in the experiment of "cleaning up Washington." Whatever one may think of the Volstead act, it is logical that the capital of the nation is the proper place in which to try out enforcement to the limit. If the rest of the country is going to obey the law, Washington should show the way. Let federal and local authorities get together and try the experiment of giving us a model city.

President Hoover once called prohibition a noble experiment. The capital is the place to try it out in detail.

DRINKING WET, VOTING DRY

The Anti-Saloon League and other prohibition organizations properly condemn citizens who drink wet and vote dry. Perhaps the league shouldn't be so hard on such voters. The chances are that if it hadn't been for the wets who voted dry we shouldn't have even as much prohibition as there is to-day.

NERVES

If you find yourself putting things off without any good reason for putting them off, and if you dread even small and easy tasks, your nerves need rest, need smoothing out. The habit of procrastination is one of the surest signs of nervous exhaustion. Normal nerves are tuned for the day's work. They are fresh every morning. If you get up tired in the morning, don't pity yourself and imagine you are working too hard. You have probably tired your nerves out by worry.

ESTIMATING COTTON PRODUCTION EXPLAINED

By ARTHUR M. HYDE

Secretary of Agriculture (Arthur M. Hyde was born at Princeton, Mo., July 12, 1877. He is a graduate of the University of Iowa. From 1900 to 1915 he practiced law at Princeton, Mo. He was mayor of Princeton from 1908 to 1910. In 1915 he moved to Trenton. From 1921 to 1925 he was governor of Missouri. He was appointed secretary of agriculture by President Hoover.)

The department of agriculture wants to help the cotton farmer to get the best price possible for his product. I believe that in developing an accurate system of cotton crop reporting, the department is rendering him a distinct service.

We are trying to estimate production in the light of the most complete data that can be obtained. It is harmful either to overestimate or underestimate the crop. The department's estimate would be of no value to growers or anyone else if they properly understood the probable crop.

Trade interests, with their extended sources of information, would quickly learn to discount such reports.

An examination of the department's cotton forecasts since they were started 14 years ago shows that of 89 forecasts, 59 were below the final ginnings. For the last two years the forecasts have been more closely in line with final ginnings than ever before. We hope to continue to improve them.

It has been found that the forecasting of cotton yields per acre must be done in two steps instead of one.

That is, first a forecast of probably boll weevil damage must be made on the basis of all the information available concerning weevils present and bolls damaged and bolls safe at the time of the report—of the weather to that date, etc.; and, second, a forecast of yield per acre made on the basis of the combination of the condition and probable weevil damage for the current year, as shown by the reports received from correspondents and field representatives. These methods have been developed from experience and investigation over a number of years.

The crop reporting board is not attempting to forecast the weather. In all of its crop forecasts it assumes average weather conditions for the balance of the season. The board must, of course, take into account the various influences at work at the time to which each report relates and which may affect the final yield, such as the extent of the weevil infestation, fruiting the earliness or lateness of the season, number of bolls safe, soil moisture, the general appearance of the cotton plant, stand, etc.

"THAT'S MY WEAKNESS NOW!"

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RURINSTEIN

A famous French artist said very recently that if a woman's hair was beautiful she was always pleasant to the eye. He went on to explain that the hair could soften any face and give to it a reflected charm. And in my opinion the French artist is right.

So in these articles, which will review the fundamentals of a beauty regime, I shall begin with the hair. It seems to me deplorable that the fashion for the bob has lessened the attention women pay to their hair. Governmental statistics show that the sale of brushes has fallen off considerably since the vogue for short locks. This is indeed calamitous, for bobbed hair needs as much, or more, attention than long hair. The brush should be as prominent on the modern dressing table as it was 25 years ago.

Dry massage is wonderfully stimulating to the scalp. It starts the blood circulating and prevents dandruff. After the hair has been brushed in the correct manner (away from the head rather than in), place the palms of the hands flat against the sides of the head and move the scalp in a rotary movement. Repeat the movement at least a dozen times and do it daily.

Oily hair should be washed approximately once a week, dry hair about once in two weeks, using a liquid soap. Here is a fact which few women realize—that giving oily hair an occasional oil shampoo is very beneficial. A dash of vinegar in the last rinse water will keep the hair soft. The hair should be dried by hand using the warm rays of Old Sol to assist whenever possible.

I told you in my last article that the coming season brings a flair for the feminine, so that whether the hair is bobbed or long, it should be arranged to lend soft enchantment to all the features. The coiffure, by all means, should be arranged to harmonize with the feminine mode.

Mayhap the shyness of his manner gives an impression of youth in the latter's case.

Senators Nye and Bratton are not so bashful.

Young Bob LaFollette, of course, is "young Bob" because fully a quarter of the senators knew him, from literal babyhood upward, while his father, the late "old Bob," was one of them.

The child for whom the menu was planned is between two and five. His cereal is cooked in a double boiler the night before, so as to be thoroughly done. Enough carrots and peas are cooked so that the child can have a portion for supper and enough will be left for the following day for the entire family to have them creamed.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Meat Loaf—One pound round steak ground, one-half pound pork ground, one cup soft bread crumbs, one cup milk, one teaspoon salt, pepper to taste, one tablespoon finely chopped onion. Mix above ingredients thoroughly. Shape into loaf and place in greased pan. Bake in oven set at 500 degrees for one hour.

CANDIED SWEET POTATOES—Boil medium sized sweet potatoes in salted water till soft. Drain and allow to cool. Remove skins and halve lengthwise. Place in buttered casserole. Boil one cup brown sugar and one-fourth cup of water till it spins fine thread and pour over potatoes. Dot with butter and sprinkle lightly with salt. Bake one hour in moderate oven, turning occasionally so they become well candied.

SUGGESTIONS
Mushrooms and String Beans—One pound green string beans, one-half pound fresh mushrooms. String and wash beans. Cook in salted water for 20 minutes, or until tender. Drain. Wash mushrooms thoroughly. Melt two tablespoons of butter or shortening in an iron skillet. Add mushrooms. Cook rapidly for two minutes and slowly for three. Salt and pepper to taste. Add the beans and one-half cup of boiling water. Heat thoroughly for about 10 minutes. Serve hot. This recipe will serve four.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT
For there is not a word in my tongue to subscribe sooner to the roll of G. O. P. heterodoxy I incline to attract party to shyness on the young senator's part; partly to a super-independence which makes him somewhat independent even of the independents.

He is not, in fact, the youngest member of the senate—41, the same age as Senator Sam G. Bratton, who serves, from New Mexico, with him—not so young as Senator Nye and "young" Bob LaFollette.

No one ever speaks of Senators Bratton or Nye as "young." They are of Senator LaFollette, but as young Bob, not young Senator LaFollette; whereas with the Santa Fe lawmaker it invariably is young Senator Cutting.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

"Dear Doctor: My baby, aged three months, has for the past week been subject to slight discharges from the right ear. It is also tender to touch. What should I do about it?" —MRS. S."

You must first realize that inflammation of the middle ear, such as is evidenced by a slight discharge, may become very serious, so you should consult your physician immediately, Mrs. S.

Babies not infrequently have ear inflammation, for in infancy, the eustachian tube is shorter and larger, so infections from the throat, and vomitus, can more easily gain entrance to the ear. If an inflammation is allowed to go on until there is a deeper infection and pus, sooner or later there will be a spontaneous rupture of the ear drum. Your physician may call an ear specialist to puncture the drum, for a tiny incision at the right place will allow better drainage and will heal more rapidly, than the ragged spontaneous opening.

While the mastoid process (back of the ear) is rudimentary during the first year of life, an inflammation of these rudimentary cells may take place, or an abscess may form under the periosteum, bone covering.

Dr. Shambaugh says that in the beginning of an ear inflammation the treatment should be only a few drops of warm five per cent solution of carbolic acid in glycerine (that would be approximately three drops of carbolic acid to the tea-spoonful) and the application of heat. Heat can be applied (carefully) with a hot water bag, or hot moist dressing, but better by simple electric therapeutic lamps (one of which every family should have for simple inflammations).

FATE HAD IMPORTANT ROLE IN GAMES IS REVEALED

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor

With the knowledge that they are facing the supreme test, Xenia Central High School footballers are preparing to give an extensive argument and to provide a few surprises for Withrow High's "Tigers," whom they are facing Friday at Cox Field.

Friday has been designated as "Equipment Day" and the game is attracting a lot of attention. Cox Field will undoubtedly be crowded to see the Bucs play the Cincinnati Withrow eleven which has conquered all opposition this season.

Reports from Withrow indicate that the Tigers are stronger than ever and they are coming to Xenia confident of winning the game rather easily. The Bucs, on the other hand, are figuring on giving Withrow a real battle. Coach Wilson isn't content to play for a low score and Xenia will be in there to win if possible.

Xenia, with a majority of the players in poor physical condition has been up against stiff opposition its last two games with Washington C. H. and Piqua, but local rooters derived a good bit of satisfaction from the fact the Bucs were able to score against the great Piqua eleven.

The promise of young Sidney Well, new owner of the Cincinnati Reds, that everything possible will be done to develop a stronger baseball team, is bearing fruit with the disclosure that the Reds have acquired Harry Heilmann, for many years a star hitter for the Detroit Tigers.

The best part of the transaction is that the Reds purchased Heilmann outright, indicating that Well is willing to spend money on the club, something that has seldom been done in recent years.

Cincinnati paid cash for him and no other players were involved in the deal. It was necessary to obtain waivers from all other American League clubs before Harry could be sold out of the league.

There may be a catch in it, however, somewhere, for it is difficult to explain why all of the other clubs would be willing to pass up a chance to acquire such a valuable outfielder as Heilmann, who several years led the entire league in batting.

Ohio University's astounding 21 to 0 defeat of Ohio Wesleyan last Saturday has made it evident that the Bobcats have a powerful team—probably the strongest in their history this season. This victory, characterized as an upset, came on top of Ohio's 18 to 0 defeat of Indiana.

While the potential strength of Ohio Wesleyan, Wittenberg and Miami was known when the season started, Coach Don Peden of the Bobcats kept his fine sophomore material quietly under cover until after the clash with the Hoosiers.

The Ohio-Indiana game indicated, for one thing, that when larger universities are meeting smaller schools in doubleheaders, there must be some specific understanding in advance as to which is playing the big institution's first team and which is meeting its second.

Many reports sent out of Bloomington stated that Ohio had defeated the Indiana second team, while Wabash, which played I. U. the same afternoon, was credited with having lost to the first team. Five Indiana lettermen, including Faunce, star halfback, were in the starting lineup against Ohio.

Three other regulars from the 1928 varsity were rushed in after Ohio scored and other lettermen, not regulars last year, also mixed in the fray. Magnobosco, McCracken, Shields, et al, make up a pretty fifty second team to say the least, and if Coach Pat Page has a first team that's better, Indiana will be up at the top of the Western Conference, which, by the way, it won't.

Toward the last of the opening game at Miami, a lone player occupied the forty feet of the players' bench along with Coach Pitts and the trainer. Some fifty other players already had gone into the game, had a brief moment of glory and cruised and departed for the showers, but the forgotten substitute remained on the bench.

"There," commented a visiting newspaperman pointing to the forlorn figure on the bench, "must sit the world's worst football player."

SANDUSKY PAPERS EFFECT MERGER

SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 16.—Announcement has been made here by the Sandusky Register, a morning newspaper, established in 1822, of its purchase of all the common stock of the Sandusky Star-Journal, an evening newspaper.

The two papers will be published from the plant of the Star Journal, by the new owners, one a Republican morning paper and the other as a Democratic evening paper. The Register was founded in 1822. R. C. Snyder, publisher of the Norwalk Reflector-Herald, will be president of the consolidated company.

Merging of Sandusky's two remaining newspapers is another step in the nation-wide trend toward consolidation of publishing interests, resulting from the economic pressure of increasing costs of publication. Sandusky has a population of about 35,000.

HOME CADETS WILL MEET STRONG WILMINGTON TEAM NEXT FRIDAY

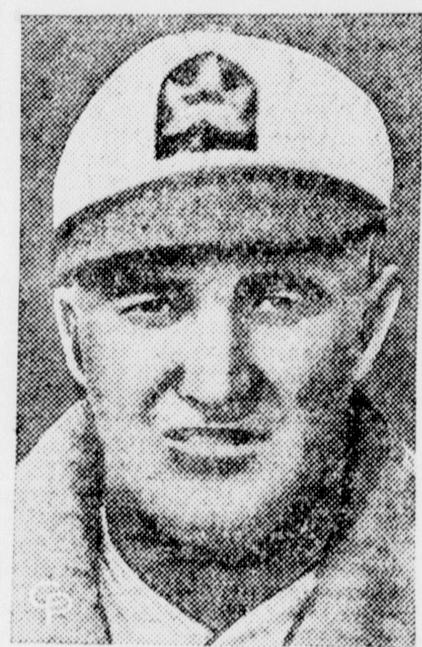

Having won two straight games the O. S. and S. O. Home football team, characterized as one of the strongest developed at the state in institution in years, began practice this week for its fourth foe of the season, Wilmington High, on the Quaker gridiron Friday afternoon.

Also for the first time in years the cadet eleven is conceded a good chance to defeat Wilmington, although the eleven developed

Coach Johnny Nowald is also displaying good form this year, having won three games and lost one.

The game should also furnish a comparison of the relative strength of Xenia Central and Wilmington High as the Bucs beat the Home 7 to 0 in the season's opener, the only reverse suffered by the cadets to date. Xenia and Wilmington meet later in the season.

MANAGER SIGNED

DAN HOWLEY

Harry Heilmann

Dan Howley, manager of the St. Louis Browns in the American League, has been signed to a three-year contract as manager of the Cincinnati Reds, by Sidney Well new president of the Cincinnati Club. He will succeed Jack Henricks. One of Howley's first acts was to buy Harry Heilmann, Detroit Tiger outfielder and former American League batting star, who is thus the first new Red on the roster.

RESERVES TO PLAY MARCOS ON SUNDAY

Although the season of the Reserve baseball team was supposed to have closed last Sunday, the management has decided that one more game will be played next Sunday against the Dayton Marcos, leading colored team of that city.

Announcement is made, however, that the game will start at 2:30 o'clock instead of 3 p. m., as heretofore this season.

It is probable that Dick Wells, who has pitched two consecutive shutouts for the Reserves, will be on the mound for the local nine Mike Weller, Reserve catcher, is asked to take notice of the scheduling of a game for Sunday.

The regulars showed lack of scoring punch during the first few minutes but they woke up after being pounded by the freshmen and scored three touchdowns. Williams was visibly heartened and he pointed out that the varsity gained more ground yesterday than it did in any practice session this year.

A squad of forty fresh all saw service in the half hour scuffle. Meanwhile, the other freshman recruits were being given a work-out in their own training field.

Oscar Ashe, freshman end, had his collar bone broken in a scrimmage between two freshman teams. When taken to the university hospital he remarked: "I'm glad it wasn't Fessler."

Twenty members of East High School's football squad will be taken on the trip to Indianapolis, Ind., where East grididers will meet their traditional foe, Crispus Attucks High School, Friday afternoon.

Leaving Thursday morning, the squad will travel by motor and will be accompanied by Coach Maurice Jones, Principal Arthur Taylor, Miss Nina Carroll and Wesley Curtis, faculty members. Several members of the student body are also expected to attend the game.

All members of the team are in fine physical condition and the school is hopeful of victory.

J. Kenneth Williamson, West Palm Beach, Fla., first past president of the Xenia Kiwanis Club was the principal speaker at the regular weekly dinner meeting at Elks' Hall, Tuesday evening. All past presidents of the organization sat at the table of the speaker, and T. H. Zell, secretary, acted as master of ceremonies, introducing the past presidents, each of whom gave brief talks.

Mr. Williamson gave a splendid address concerning club matters, speaking of accomplishments of the club which looked impossible at the time of his presidency. He closed his address by telling of the club work at West Palm Beach, and favored the members by singing the song "Alouette".

During the short business session the club passed a resolution approving the Community Chest Drive and vouching its support. Eight or ten of the club members are making plans to go to Covington, Wednesday evening to help honor the new governor, Guy O'Donnell.

The eight past presidents, in order of their presidency, are as follows: J. Kenneth Williamson, West Palm Beach, Fla.; Milton E. Key, Dr. Austin M. Patterson, E. H. Heathman, J. Thorb Charters, Mayor Karl R. Babb, Harper Pendry, Ironton; Vern L. Faires and the present president James D. Adair.

The Theater

In the show business people meet and part and meet again and again, as witness the case of Dennis King and O. P. Heggie, the veteran.

In 1921 King needed a job and once reached, she will be more content to abandon the grease paint and live in topsy-turvy ease on her income.

The capital may be rated at a million and a half dollars. Following her stellar work in "The Miracle Man", Betty stumbled into lean years. She campaigned to defeat them by making films for the small companies, and shortly the big producers saw she was still much in evidence.

She started working for the big boys and the talkies did her no harm. Her salary rose to around $2,500 a week and working almost fifty-two weeks a year, the total is not to be sneezed at. She has put away a goodly share of this. If she retires at the peak of her career, she'll set movie precedent. Lots of them talk about retiring before their public tires of them, but none of them ever get around to it.

principal role and he often gave the juvenile good advice. After the evening performance King used to sing for the cast and Heggie urged him to train his voice.

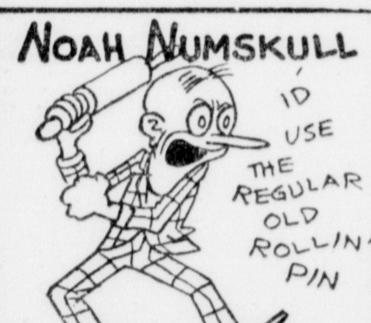

When the play ended its run, Heggie and King parted company, not to meet again for eight years. King eventually followed the advice about his voice became a musical stage favorite. Then Paramount brought King to Hollywood for his first screen starring role in the all-color song romance, "The Vagabond King". One of the first persons King met in the studio was Heggie, who had been cast as the King Lenni XI of the film.

Jimmy Savo, the dancing, singing and pantomimic comedian in Murray Anderson's hit New York show "Almanac", is slated to join the Hollywood film colony the first of the year.

Savo has a Fox contract and comes West to fulfill it. Those who have seen him rate him on a par with Charlie Chaplin when it comes to pantomime. Add to this his other accomplishments and Fox, unless he is permitted to idle forever, would appear to have a 1930 laugh ace.

There is a reliable report current in Hollywood that Betty Compson plans to retire from the pictures within a year's time.

The report has it that Betty set a financial mark for herself to

AT ANTIOCH CHANGE PLACES THIS WEEK

Approximately half of Antioch College moved out and half moved in this week as Division A changed places with Division B.

For the 323 students in Division B, this week marks the opening of their college work for the year. They have been out "on the job" under the co-operative part of the Antioch program. The whole gamut of opening week exercises and formalities, including placement examinations for freshmen, registration procedure, assignment of rooms, arrival of "campus flyers" with baggage of all sorts and other scenes connected with the opening of a college year is carried out this week at Antioch substantially as it was five weeks ago when Division A arrived.

Division A students now go to their co-operative work in the extramural school, as Antioch calls the system of arrangements with employers by which every Antioch student actually works in real business, industry, and the professions. How widely the students have scattered over the weekend is indicated by the fact that Antioch College students now hold jobs in sixteen states ranging from Missouri to Massachusetts.

Included in entering Division B are 130 new students, including eighty men and fifty women.

Monday night the annual "mixer" was held in the gymnasium. A general assembly is scheduled for Wednesday. At that time the student body and faculty will hear an address by the president of the college, Arthur E. Morgan.

WILL HOLD GARDEN SCHOOL HERE SOON

Victor H. Reis, specialist in floriculture of Ohio State University, will hold a garden and home beautification school in the assembly room of the Court House October 22, beginning promptly at 10 a.m.

At the morning session Mr. Reis will give a lecture outlining the principles of garden and home beautification and endeavor to teach the people to plan their own grounds.

The afternoon will be spent in the actual study of flowers and shrubs at a nursery or well-planted home. Following this a home will be staked out as a planning demonstration and planted. The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting. For further information call County Agricultural Agent Drake.

DETECTIVES SLAY COUPLE OF BIRDS

RAY ARCHER and George R. Ruder, Columbus detectives, killed several birds with one stone during an auto trip to Xenia Monday. They recovered two recently stolen autos.

On the way to Xenia the two detectives saw an auto parked just off the road along Darby Creek. They investigated and learned the car belonged to John Lawler, 1685 E. Long St., Columbus, and stolen from the rear of his home October 12.

On their return trip, near South Charleston, the officers noticed another parked auto and found it was the property of A. R. Burke, 252 Johnson St., Columbus, stolen from in front of his home October 14.

The two detectives left Columbus with the intention of arresting Harry Vaughn, colored, Xenia, whom they wanted to question in connection with the sale of several stolen autos but they were unable to find him. Vaughn was later arrested by county authorities and was taken to Columbus Tuesday.

ILLNESS OF FIVE YEARS BANISHED BY NEW KONJOLA

Complications Made His Life Miserable; Declares New Medicine Only Thing That Helped Him.

"Mere words can never express my gratitude for Konjola," said Mr. B. H. Galyon, 171 Shaefer St., Dayton, O. "For five years I suffered from stomach trouble. Everything I ate caused an acid condition, gas and bloating. My liver was torpid and I was subject to bilious attacks and dizzy spells. My system was filled with poisons and I was rundown in general."

"But since taking Konjola I have regained health. Two bottles showed me that I was on the right track. The third bottle began to eliminate my illness. A short time later I was free of stomach and liver trouble. I eat three hearty meals a day without suffering afterward. All biliousness and dizzy spells have been swept away. I have gained weight, eight pounds, and owe all this new and glorious health to Konjola—the master medicine."

It is important that the frocks for the debutante be au fait. They must be youthful, brilliantly styled and they must be sophisticated. These four models by Mme. Claire, fulfill these demands. From left to right they are, first, afternoon frock of blue moire with the drooping skirtline and collar of eggshell satin. Second, gold naft heads used in original embroidery medium used for trimming godet, collar and skirt. Ruffles add femininity to the frock. The third model is a symphony in color, navy silk contrasted with eggshell. A large bertha collar extends half way down to meet the all around pleated skirt with transparent velvet bow, and there is a lace yoke. Fourth, extreme right, Mme. Claire has made a lovely frock of black crepe with black and chartreuse plastrum emphasizing the new waistline.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE SET FOR WEEK OF NOVEMBER 19 TO 26

The second annual 1930 Xenia Community Chest campaign will be held from November 19 to November 26, it was disclosed at a luncheon meeting of the chest executive committee Wednesday at the "Iron Lantern."

The first annual drive held last year was staged at approximately the same time.

Plans for the coming campaign were discussed at the meeting and announcement was made of a public luncheon-meeting that will be held at the Elks' Club next Tuesday noon, at which it is hoped to have representatives of all Xenia civic and welfare organizations present. Luncheon will be served at 50 cents a plate for everyone in attendance.

A similar pre-campaign rally was held last year and stimulated great enthusiasm in the drive to obtain funds for charity work.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GOOD TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY — There were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. — Luke 2:8, 9, 10, 11.

THE NEW "BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER"

The new edition of the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal church, the result of 15 years of study and revision, has just been published. The most noticeable changes occur in the wording of the marriage service, from which the bride's former promise to "obey" and "serve" have been eliminated. The word "honor" is substituted.

No longer will the bridegrooms of the Episcopal church "with all their worldly goods endow" their spouses. This phrase, also, has gone in the discard.

In the opening sentence of the marriage service, which speaks of matrimony as "an honorable estate instituted of God in the time of man's innocency," the last six words have been dropped.

Isaac and Rebecca have lost their status as the high exemplars of mutual fidelity. Reference to them in the prayer ratifying the marital vows has been obliterated on the ground that, although the pair have been held up for 140 years as the ideal wedded couple, Isaac is recorded as having on one occasion tried to pass off Rebecca as his sister.

The Good Friday collect has been softened materially to omit reference to "Jews, Turks, infidels and heretics." The phrase, "all who know Thee not as Thou art revealed," is substituted. The collect also omits the passage which refers to the saving of the faithful "among the remnant of the true Israelites."

THE LOUVAIN INSCRIPTION

Whitney Warren, American architect, has finally won his battle in the Belgian courts to retain an inscription on a balustrade in the memorial library which he designed for the University of Louvain. The inscription reads that the edifice was "destroyed by Teutonic fury, rebuilt by American generosity."

Two years ago work on the facade was suspended when a controversy arose between Warren and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, representing the Carnegie Foundation, the chief donor of the building. Dr. Butler thought the phraseology of the inscription would conduce to the revival of war-bred hatred. Warren retorted that he was following out the wishes of the late Cardinal Mercier and insisted on the right of an architect to impose his own interpretation of any problem without being subject to amendment by others.

The controversy came to a climax in June, 1928, when a crowd of several hundred people pulled down and broke to pieces the pillars of the balustrade of the library on which Mgr. Ladeuze, rector of the university, proposed to erect an inscription which avoided the words "Teutonic fury."

Whether or not the judgment will be appealed, the decision of the Louvain court will doubtless renew bitter discussions. Two questions are involved. Do the words "Teutonic fury" express an historical fact or do they imply the partisan spirit of war? Has an artist paid to execute a commission the right to insist that his work be preserved in integral form by those who have purchased it?

These are two problems which the individual must face. It is obviously impossible to dogmatize about them.

Bo-Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK—When word got out marked success. We're all proud a year or so ago that Ed Davis, multi-millionaire oil man from Texas, was loose on Broadway with the rubber band on his wallet fractured, and playing "angel" to a dead show, there was a general rush in his direction in which several of The Boys and one or two of The Girls were seriously injured.

And by it noted that in all the paddling round he's done on The Lane from that time to this he has yet to be initiated into the Ancient Order of Sad-Eyed Suckers.

A HOMER! My friend Max, the Big Coffee and Cruler Man, is opening a new Java Joint in the environs of Greeley Square. Max does his own advertising. Some years ago he came to me and said he thought he could write better ads for himself than anyone could write for him. "Go ahead," I told him. "The only way to learn to write, is to write."

WHO WOULDNT? A shirt, tie, bathrobe and collar savant on Fifth Avenue has a carefully thought-out card in his window whereon he announces that he deals in "Edited Haberdashery." He refused to have my pyjamas blue went to work along those lines with pinked!

THE WAY of the WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON

CIGARETTE FIGHTING

Somewhere in Ohio a movement has started which seeks to have all cigarette packages labeled with skull and crossbones. Congress is to be asked to treat cigarettes as poison and labeled accordingly. This kind of fighting is a waste of power. With so many heavier evils confronting mankind, with so many things in this interesting world worth fighting against, why bother with tobacco? And doubtless as many people are seriously hurt by over-eating as over-smoking. Others are hurt by over-worry about trivial matters—such as smoking.

A MODEL WASHINGTON

Prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists ought to be interested in the experiment of "cleaning up Washington." Whatever one may think of the Volstead act, it is logical that the capital of the nation is the proper place in which to try out enforcement to the limit. If the rest of the country is going to obey the law, Washington should show the way. Let federal and local authorities get together and try the experiment of giving us a model city.

President Hoover once called prohibition a noble experiment. The capital is the place to try it out in detail.

DRINKING WET, VOTING DRY

The Anti-Saloon League and other prohibition organizations properly condemn citizens who drink wet and vote dry. Perhaps the league shouldn't be so hard on such voters. The chances are that if it hadn't been for the wets who voted dry we shouldn't have even as much prohibition as there is today.

NERVES

If you find yourself putting things off without any good reason for putting them off, and if you dread even small and easy tasks, your nerves need rest, need smoothing out. The habit of procrastination is one of the surest signs of nervous exhaustion. Normal nerves are tuned for the day's work. They are fresh every morning. If you get up tired in the morning, don't pity yourself and imagine you are working too hard. You have probably tired your nerves out by worry.

The best cure is to study astronomy for three-quarters of an hour each evening—learning how little the earth really is, and how much littler man, and how few things really matter.

ESTIMATING COTTON PRODUCTION EXPLAINED

By ARTHUR M. HYDE
Secretary of Agriculture
(Arthur M. Hyde was born at Princeton, Mo., July 12, 1877. He is a graduate of the University of Iowa. From 1900 to 1915 he practiced law at Princeton, Mo. He was mayor of Princeton from 1905 to 1910. In 1915 he moved to Trenton. From 1921 to 1923 he was governor of Missouri. He was appointed secretary of agriculture by President Hoover.)

The department of agriculture wants to help the cotton farmer to get the best price possible for his product. I believe that in developing an accurate system of cotton crop reporting, the department is rendering him a distinct service.

We are trying to estimate production in the light of the most complete data that can be obtained. It is harmful either to overestimate or underestimate the crop. The department's estimate would be of no value to growers or anyone else if they purposely understated the probable crop. Trade interests, with their extended sources of information, would quickly learn to discount such reports.

An examination of the department's cotton forecasts since they were started 14 years ago shows that of 89 forecasts, 59 were below the final ginnings. For the last two years the forecasts have been more closely in line with final ginnings than ever before. We hope to continue to improve them.

It has been found that the forecasting of cotton yields per acre must be done in two steps instead of one.

That is, first a forecast of probably boll weevil damage must be made on the basis of all the information available concerning weevils present and bolls damaged and bolls safe at the time of the report and of the weather to that date, etc.; and, second, a forecast of yield per acre made on the basis of the combination of the condition and probable weevil damage for the current year, as shown by the reports received from correspondents and field representatives. These methods have been developed from experience and investigation over a number of years.

The crop reporting board is not attempting to forecast the weather. In all of its crop forecasts it assumes average weather conditions for the balance of the season. The board must, of course, take into account the various influences at work at the time to which each report relates and which may affect the final yield, such as the extent of the weevil infestation, fruiting the earliness or lateness of the season, number of bolls safe, soil moisture, the general appearance of the cotton plant, stand, etc.

A modest man is too rare in congress to be missed in no matter how he is to subscribe sooner to the roll of G. O. P. heterodoxy I incline to attribute party to shyness on the young senator's part; partly to a super-independence which makes him somewhat independent of the Independents.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

A famous French artist said very recently that if a woman's hair was beautiful she was always pleasant to the eye. He went on to explain that the hair could soften any face and give it a reflected charm. And in my opinion the French artist is right.

In these articles, which will review the fundamentals of a beauty regime, I shall begin with the hair. It seems to me deplorable that the fashion for the bob has lessened the attention women pay to their hair. Governmental statistics show that the sale of brushes has fallen off considerably since the vogue for short locks. This is indeed calamitous, for bobbed hair needs as much, or more, attention than long hair. The brush should be used on an occasional oil shampoo is very beneficial. A dash of vinegar in the last rinse water will keep the hair soft. The hair should be dried by hand using the warm rays of Old Sol to assist whenever possible.

Oily hair should be washed approximately once a week, dry hair about once in two weeks, using a liquid soap. Here is a fact which few women realize—that giving oily hair an occasional oil shampoo is very beneficial. A dash of vinegar in the last rinse water will keep the hair soft. The hair should be dried by hand using the warm rays of Old Sol to assist whenever possible.

I told you in my last article that the coming season brings a flair for the feminine, so that whether the hair is bobbed or long, it should be arranged to lend soft enchantment to all the features. The coiffure, by all means, should be arranged to harmonize with the feminine mode.

Mayhap the shyness of his manner gives an impression of youth in the latter's case.

Senators Nye and Bratton are not so bashful.

Young Bob LaFollette, of course, is "young Bob" because fully a quarter of the senators knew him, from literal babyhood upward, while his father, the late "old Bob," was one of them.

ATHLETICS WOULD WIN EVEN LONGER SERIES SAYS SCRIBE

Fate Had Important Role In Games Is Revealed

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor

With the knowledge that they are facing the supreme test, Xenia Central High School footballers are preparing to give an extensive argument and to provide a few surprises for Withrow High's "Tigers," whom they are facing Friday at Cox Field.

Friday has been designated as "Equipment Day" and the game is attracting a lot of attention. Cox Field will undoubtedly be crowded to see the Bucs play the Cincinnati Withrow eleven which has conquered all opposition this season.

Reports from Withrow indicate that the Tigers are stronger than ever and they are coming to Xenia confident of winning the game rather easily. The Bucs, on the other hand, are figuring on giving Withrow a real battle. Coach Wilson isn't content to play for a low score and Xenia will be in there to win if possible.

Xenia, with a majority of the players in poor physical condition has been up against stiff opposition its last two games with Washington C. H. and Piqua, but local rooters derived a good bit of satisfaction from the fact the Bucs were able to score against the great Piqua—seven.

The promise of young Sidney Well, new owner of the Cincinnati Reds, that everything possible will be done to develop a stronger baseball team, is bearing fruit with the disclosure that the Reds have acquired Harry Heilmann, for many years a star batter for the Detroit Tigers.

The best part of the transaction is that the Reds purchased Heilmann outright, indicating that Well is willing to spend money on the club, something that has seldom been done in recent years.

Cincinnati paid cash for him and no other players were involved in the deal. It was necessary to obtain waivers from all other American League clubs before Harry could be sold out of the league.

There may be a catch in it, however, somewhere, for it is difficult to explain why all of the other clubs would be willing to pass up a chance to acquire such a valuable outfielder as Heilmann, who several years led the entire league in batting.

Ohio University's astounding 21 to 0 defeat of Ohio Wesleyan last Saturday has made it evident that the Bobcats have a powerful team—probably the strongest in their history this season. This victory, characterized as an upset, came on top of Ohio's 18 to 0 defeat of Indiana.

While the potential strength of Ohio Wesleyan, Wittenberg and Miami was known when the season started, Coach Don Peden of the Bobcats kept his fine sophomore material quietly under cover until after the clash with the Hoosiers.

The Ohio-Indiana game indicated, for one thing, that when larger universities are meeting smaller schools in doubleheaders, there must be some specific understanding in advance as to which is playing the big institution's first team and which is meeting its second.

Many reports sent out of Bloomington stated that Ohio had defeated the Indiana second team, while Wabash, which played I. U. the same afternoon, was credited with having lost to the first team. Five Indiana lettermen, including Faunce, star halfback, were in the starting lineup against Ohio.

Three other regulars from the 1928 varsity were rushed in after Ohio scored and other lettermen, not regulars last year, also mixed in the fray. Magnobosco, McCracken, Shields, et al, make up a pretty nifty second team to say the least, and if Coach Pat Page has a first team that's better, Indiana will be up at the top of the Western Conference, which, by the way, it won't.

Toward the last of the opening game at Miami, a lone player occupied the forty feet of the players' bench along with Coach Pittser and the trainer. Some fifty other players had gone into the game, had a brief moment of glory and lruised and departed for the showers, but the forgotten substitute remained on the bench.

"There," commented a visiting newspaperman, pointing to the forlorn figure on the bench, "must sit the world's worst football player."

SANDUSKY PAPERS EFFECT MERGER

SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 16.—Announcement has been made here by the Sandusky Register, a morning newspaper, established in 1822, of its purchase of all the common stock of the Sandusky Star-Journal, an evening newspaper.

The two papers will be published from the plant of the Star Journal, by the new owners, one a Republican morning paper and the other as a Democratic evening paper. The Register was founded in 1822. R. C. Snyder, publisher of the Norwalk Reflector-Herald, will be president of the consolidated company.

Merging of Sandusky's two remaining newspapers is another step in the nation-wide trend toward consolidation of publishing interests, resulting from the economic pressure of increasing costs of publication. Sandusky has a population of about 35,000.

EAST HIGH TACKLES CRISPUS ATTACKS

Twenty members of East High School's football squad will be taken on the trip to Indianapolis, Ind., where East gridironers will meet their traditional foe, Crispus Attacks High School, Friday afternoon.

Leaving Thursday morning, the squad will travel by motor and will be accompanied by Coach Maurice Jones, Principal Arthur Taylor, Miss Nina Carroll and Wesley Curtis, faculty members. Several members of the student body are also expected to attend the game.

All members of the team are in fine physical condition and the school is hopeful of victory.

HOME CADETS WILL MEET STRONG WILMINGTON TEAM NEXT FRIDAY

Having won two straight games the O. S. and S. O. Home football team, characterized as one of the strongest developed at the state institution in years, began practice this week for its fourth foe of the season, Wilmington High, on the Quaker gridiron Friday afternoon.

Also for the first time in years the cadet eleven is conceded a good chance to defeat Wilmington, although the eleven developed by

Coach Johnny Nowald is also displaying good form this year, having won three games and lost one.

The game should also furnish a comparison of the relative strength of Xenia Central and Wilmington High as the Bucs beat the Home 7 to 0 in the season's opener, the only reverse suffered by the cadets to date. Xenia and Wilmington meet later in the season.

FORMER RESIDENT OF COUNTY KILLED

MANAGER SIGNED

DAN HOWLEY

Harry Heilmann.

Dan Howley, manager of the St. Louis Browns in the American League, has been signed to a three-year contract as manager of the Cincinnati Reds, by Sidney Well new president of the Cincinnati Club. He will succeed Jack Hendricks. One of Howley's first acts was to buy Harry Heilmann, Detroit Tiger outfielder and former American League batting star, who thus is the first new Red on the roster.

What of Foxx's home run that got the first game, since it got Root out of the box? This smash, deserving though it was of all the luck, could get, barely caught the far corner of the center field stand. A foot or so to the right and it wouldn't have been a home run at all. And what of Bishop's hit in the ninth inning of the final game? He swung late, with the result that the ball cut inside third base by inches. Without Bishop on base, Haas' home run might have been just a home run, although personally I doubt this.

They call these things "breaks" and either rejoice or complain bitterly about them, according to the way they go. But I notice the breaks usually go to the better ball team. There is no doubt in my mind that they did so this time.

OHIO STATE ELEVEN SHOWING FINE FORM

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 16.—The Ohio State University varsity grididers stomped through a freshman eleven yesterday afternoon and made three touchdowns during a thirty-minute practice session.

Coch Willaman took no chances of having his backfield stars injured.

Holman, McConnell and Horn were kept out of the scrum.

Hickman, former local high school flash led the freshmen from the quarterback berth in a brilliant manner.

The regulars showed lack of scoring punch during the first few minutes but they woke up after being pounded by the freshmen and scored three touchdowns.

Willaman was visibly heartened and he pointed out that the varsity gained more ground yesterday than it did in any practice session this year.

A squad of forty frosh all saw service in the half hour scuffle.

Meanwhile, the other freshman recruits were being given a work-out in their own training field.

Oscar Ashe, freshman end, had his collar bone broken in a scrimmage between two freshman teams.

When taken to the university hospital he remarked: "I'm glad that wasn't Fessler."

Bowling Scores

The Red Wing Co. bowling quintet went into a tie with the champion Greene County Lumber Co. for the second place in the Recreation League by winning two out of three games from the last-place Arch-O-Pedic Shoes Tuesday night.

E. Anderson, member of the losing team, established a new league record for high individual game when he turned in a score of 245.

The former league mark of 235 was only created Monday night by Peterson. Anderson had a three-game total of 604. J. Anderson led the winners with 591. Box score:

AT ANTIOTH CHANGE PLACES THIS WEEK

Approximately half of Antioch College moved out and half moved in this week as Division A changed places with Division B.

For the 323 students in Division B, this week marks the opening of their college work for the year. They have been out "on the job" under the co-operative part of the Antioch program. The whole gamut of opening week exercises and formalities, including placement examinations for freshmen, registration procedure, assignment of rooms, arrival of "campus flivvers" with baggage of all sorts and other scenes connected with the opening of a college year is carried out this week at Antioch substantially as it was five weeks ago when Division A arrived.

Division A students now go to their co-operative work in the extramural school, as Antioch calls the system of arrangements with employers by which every Antioch student actually works in real business, industry, and the professions. How widely the students have scattered over the weekend is indicated by the fact that Antioch College students now hold jobs in sixteen states ranging from Missouri to Massachusetts.

Included in entering Division B are 130 new students, including eighty men and fifty women.

Monday night the annual "mixer" was held in the gymnasium. A general assembly is scheduled for Wednesday. At that time the student body and faculty will hear an address by the president of the college, Arthur E. Morgan.

WILL HOLD GARDEN SCHOOL HERE SOON

Victor H. Reis, specialist in floriculture of Ohio State University, will hold a garden and home beautification school in the assembly room of the Court House October 22, beginning promptly at 10 a.m.

At the morning session Mr. Reis will give a lecture outlining the principles of garden and home beautification and endeavor to teach the people to plan their own grounds.

The afternoon will be spent in the actual study of flowers and shrubs at a nursery or well-planted home. Following this a home will be staked out as a planning demonstration and planted. The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting. For further information call County Agricultural Agent Drake.

Why don't they change the menu? Day after day, same old foods . . .

But is it the menu? Or is it mainly—YOU! Nature has effective ways of telling you all is not well inside. Loss of appetite is one of them.

Constipation—oldest human affliction—is the commonest ailment today, the root of most human ills. And its prolonged effect is so needless!

Simple water-washing will quickly dispel the most stubborn constipation! Ordinary drinking water would do if it passed through the intestinal tract. Unfortunately it does not. It goes through the kidneys.

That is where Pluto Mineral Water differs. Its mineral content exceeds in percentage the mineral content of the blood. Hence it passes directly through the eliminative system, flushing and cleansing all that's before it.

In 30 minutes to two hours, Pluto Water has completed its course through the system. Relief is as prompt as it is thorough!

Since Pluto merely washes, it never gripes

—has no habit-forming tendencies—is harmless, and distinctly soothing to the membranes. Physicians everywhere prescribe Pluto Mineral Water for the safe and certain relief of constipation.

Many people drink a little Pluto Water every day upon arising to insure constant regularity—an excellent way to avoid colds and influenza. Dilute with hot water—directions on every bottle. Sold at all drug counters and at fountains. Bottled at the springs, French Lick, Indiana.
